

RECAPTURE NEGRO AFTER 11 YEARS

Had Enjoyed Freedom for Long Time After His Escape From Jail.

ARRESTED BY DUCKET

Local Detective Recognizes Man Charged With Cattle Stealing in Atoka.

Ability of peace officers to remember faces and recognize criminals years after the commission of an offense was demonstrated in this city this week when Chas. Quirt, a negro, was arrested by Walter Duckett, local detective, and turned over to Atoka county authorities, for trial on the charge of stealing nine head of cattle in that county 11 years ago.

Duckett last Wednesday saw a negro in the Mayo building whom he believed he had known as a wanted for a crime and after talking to the man, who has been living in Tulsa for several years with his family under the name of George Harris, obtained a confession that the man's real name was Quirt, and that he escaped from the Atoka county jail in 1909 while waiting trial for cattle stealing. The detective was for several years a peace officer in and about Atoka, and remembering Quirt, whom he had not seen for 14 years, or three years before the commission of the alleged crime, made the arrest in this city. Friday morning Sheriff Robert O. Sumpter of Atoka county arrived in this city and returned Quirt to that county for trial on the original charge. Quirt has married since escaping jail and has a wife and two children living in this city, and under the name of Harris had for more than 10 years evaded arrest. The wife and children, according to Duckett, did not know the man's real name.

REPORTS S. A. GROWTH

Staff Officers Return From Dallas Conference With Encouraging Announcements.

Reports made at the Salvation Army staff officers' congress in Dallas May 29-June 2 showed a marked increase in membership, finances, meeting and properties throughout the entire southwest in the division during the past year, according to Commandant O. T. Johnson of the local citadel, who returned yesterday. The record of the Tulsa Salvation Army was pronounced one of the best, as the citadel last year came into possession of the most completely equipped building in the division, acquired a full staff of officers, sold more copies of the "War Cry," the national weekly, than any other southwestern citadel, and made general progress in all departments. The congress was one of the largest held, 200 officers and representatives being in attendance. Commandant Johnson said, "Other members of the local delegation were Corps Cadets Rachel Thomas and Melva Bascom and young sergeant, Asa Wilkerson. Lieut. Col. George Wood was in charge of the congress, for which Colonel Gauntlet of Chicago was the principal speaker and the Chicago staff band, which played in Tulsa, furnished the music. Bandman Fred Woodgate, a member of the staff band, will be in Tulsa Sunday and will give several selections at the street-meeting at 7 o'clock Sunday morning and at the hall meeting at 8 o'clock.

TO GIVE BREAKFAST DANCE

Dinner-Dances and Dances To Be Held in the Shade by Elks.

A breakfast dance staged under the auspices of the Elks entertainment committee will be an innovation in interchicane circles in Tulsa, according to an announcement made yesterday by Jack Gelfand, chairman. The matter of holding such a dance was put up to those attending the social meeting Thursday night and unanimously approved. It will be held in the park at Red Fork some time in July. The date of July is suggested because it follows a Sunday and will in itself be a holiday. Dancing will commence at 5 a. m. and end at 8 a. m. Breakfast will be served those participating.

Major Evans' Musical Appetite Is Partial to "Jazztime" Music

Major T. D. Evans is not enthusiastic over so-called classical music. It doesn't put pep into his feet or make his blood tingle with artificial or natural exhilaration. It's all right for those who like it, but as for the major—well, it's all right for him occasionally—very occasionally. He wants to hear just enough of it so he may know that the musicians really are capable of playing it. Incidentally, his musical sentiments at the commission meeting yesterday morning when approval was asked for band concerts to be given this summer in Central park by a juvenile band of 16 pieces. "Can they play jazz?" Major Evans asked. "And would—the matter was quickly settled. "Tell 'em to make it snappy," he admonished. These concerts will not interfere with concerts to be given under auspices of the Junior chamber of commerce this summer.

At a meeting of the board of deacons of the United Presbyterian church held Thursday night, it was decided to lay the corner stone of the new church building, which will be constructed at King and Cheyenne streets at 4 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, June 13. Short addresses will be delivered by Dr. C. W. Kerr, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and Dr. J. W. Abel, pastor of the First Methodist church, and entertaining musical numbers, both instrumental and vocal, will be on the program. The new house of worship will be modern in every particular with a seating capacity of about 400 persons. The present church is located at Cheyenne and Cameron streets. Rev. Charles E. ASKS COURT FOR INJUNCTION

Druggist at Sand Springs Claims His Landlord Threatens Ejectment.

Asking the court for an injunction preventing the owners of a building in Sand Springs from forcibly throwing the petitioner, the owner of a stock of drugs, into the street, suit was filed in superior court yesterday by Roy F. Miller against Dora A. Matthews. Miller alleges he rented the store building May 31, 1919, for a period of five years and that the owners of the property has for the past several months cursed and abused him and interfered with his trade in an effort to compel him to remove his drug stock.

SWAT CAR THIEF PLEADS GUTHREY

State Auto Club Urged to Stamp Out Menace to Motor Owners.

E. Ben Guthrey, retiring secretary of the Automobile club, made an urgent appeal to the club to help stamp out auto thievery during an address before the club at its regular weekly luncheon in the club room at Hotel Tulsa yesterday noon. Mr. Guthrey recommended the employment of 100 competent law enforcement officers at an expense of $2,000 each, and private detectives to the amount of $10,000. His plan is to assess each of the 5,000 members of the state association $10, and that this money be used not only in preventing or prosecuting auto thievery, but in preparing road maps and for other important purposes. He proposes to make every county commissioner in the state an honorary member of the association. Weather bulletin giving condition of roads out of Tulsa, will probably be issued by the weather bureau regularly, beginning in a short time, he said.

TAKE CASE FROM JURY

Dismiss Damage Suit and Order that Proceedings be Taken Before State Compensation Board.

Asking damages of $25,000 for personal injuries received at Sand Springs July 13, 1917, when caught between freight cars, suit was begun before the jury in superior court yesterday by John A. Newhouse, in charge of a switching crew for the Sand Springs railway, against that corporation and the Frisco railroad. After taking testimony in the case, Judge L. J. Martin sustained a motion of the defense that the case be taken from the jury on the ground that this court was without jurisdiction and that Newhouse should petition the state working-men's compensation board for redress for his injuries. Newhouse claims that he was assisting in handling cars when caught between defective sand and freight car and crushed in such a manner as to paralyze his right arm and permanently injure him for the remainder of his life. He alleges negligence on the part of the Sand Springs engineer of a switch engine because of the manner in which the cars were handled, and on the part of the Frisco company in allowing a defective and heavily loaded car of sand to be put into use on the railroads of the country.

LITTLE TOT LOVES TO DANCE

Fondness for the Footlights Costs Her Father a Fine.

The dancing proclivities of little Mary McLeod, less than three years old, is what brought trouble to her father, Walter McLeod, owner of the show now playing at the Broadway theater, according to a statement made yesterday by him in explanation of the causes leading to his arrest here for violation of the state labor laws. He was fined $10 for the offense when he entered a plea of guilty upon his arraignment before Justice H. J. Gray, Thursday. "Mary just loves to dance and we sometimes humor her," said her father. "There is no money consideration involved. All my children are theatrical in inclination. They can't help it because they are reared in the atmosphere of the theater. The little girl feels bad when we don't permit her to dance before the public and that is all there is to it." McLeod denies that he was ever arrested in Muskogee or anywhere.

Will Invest Million Dollars in Tulsa Loans During Present Year

That Tulsa real estate is considered a gold edged investment by outside financiers was evidenced yesterday in a statement by a local contractor that Fred Stevens, a Fort Worth oil man, has announced his intention of investing practically $1,000,000 in Tulsa loans this year. "Tulsa is the best town in the country," said Stevens upon the occasion of a recent visit here. "The stability is insured because it will always have the capital of the oil world. It is building upon the solid rock of permanent prosperity."

LARGE PUMP COMING

22,000,000-Gallon Addition to City Water Equipment Ready to Ship; No Foundation For It.

The city's new 22,000,000-gallon water pump is ready to ship, according to word received from the Allco-Chalmers company, manufacturers. The city commission is in a quandary as to what step to take next. A special foundation is required for this pump and it has not yet been started. Summer is coming, and with it an increased consumption of city water. The pump now in use is getting old, and has a capacity of only 7,000,000 gallons daily. It is now running to capacity. It is probable that a special contractor to build the foundation on a cost-and-percentage basis, that it may be ready for the pump when it arrives.

COPPERS BALL IS SUCCESS

$3,500 Realized for Purchase of Uniforms for Police Force. The first annual policemen's ball, held at Convention hall Thursday night, was a success, both financially and socially. The grand march was led by Mayor T. D. Evans and chief of police John A. Gustafson. Approximately 2,500 was realized from the sale of tickets. This amount will be applied on the purchase of new stylish uniforms for members of the police force. The estimate cost of uniforming the force is $6,000, so more than half has been raised. Several members of city commission danced from the beginning of the dance until "Home Sweet Home" was played at midnight.
